

Question to Mr. Arafat, 13.4.94

Référence à rappeler :

The Mediterranean region is becoming one of the most problematic and dangerous regions of the world. Too many conflicts are open in both borders and many others are potential sources of new conflicts from all points of view: demographic, social, economic, religious and military.

The current talks and negotiations between the Israel Government and PLO are a hope for all of us, but some important questions remained open.

There are two possibilities:
first, that

I should like to know your opinion on the eventual influence of your agreements help ~~to~~ <sup>to</sup> implement ~~the~~ <sup>a</sup> better political and social climate in the whole Mediterranean area; ~~but also~~ <sup>secondly</sup> the possibility of the development of new local and regional divisions and tensions in both borders ↑ but ~~especially~~ in as we see that the reactions to the agreement's policy have been and still are very different and even contradictory.

~~the east and the south borders~~ which will be, in your opinion, the impact of the PLO-Israel agreements on the overall development of the <sup>Mediterranean area</sup> ~~Jordi Sole Tur~~?
